ORPHAN HOME HEAD ACCUSED YOUNG GIRL

Anthony, Superintendent of Good Templars' Home at Vallejo. Denies Charges That Are Made by Inmates

Investigation and Arrest Follow When Ten-Year-Old Girl Tells Mother of Alleged Attack; 2 Nurses Disappear

VALLEJO, March 21.—A warrant was issued today to re-arrest Fred G. Anthony, charged with misconduct as superintendent of the Good Templars' Home for orphans here when one of his housemates withdrew following his release on $2,000 bonds yesterday.

A small boy inmate who ran away from the home last night, was questioned at length by the district attorney today.

Fred Anthony, superintendent of the Good Templars' Home for Orphans at Vallejo, is under arrest as the result of accusations against him by several girls inmates of the home, none of whom is more than fourteen years old. The arrest followed an investigation, begun last Sunday, by District Attorney Arthur Lindauer, based on the complaint of these girls of a ten-year-old inmate of the home.

For five hours before the arrest, Anthony was subjected to a grilling at the offices of the Solano County Probation Commission, where he was confronted by the children, who accused him, and while they repeated the details of the accusations against him, he denied the charges.

THE SUPERVISOR OF THE IN DENYING CHARGES.

Anthony, who is 50 years old, is upheld by his wife, who has assisted him in the conduct of the home. He cannot believe that these terrible things are true, said Mrs. Anthony. "Surely I would have known if these things were going on."

The investigation was started after a mother visited her 10-year-old daughter who has been an inmate of the home during the past year. The child confided to her mother that Anthony had attempted to attack her. She also told her mother of Anthony's alleged relations with several other girls.

The mother immediately went to District Attorney Lindauer at Vallejo and repeated to him the story told by her little daughter. The next day she took her child from the home, and the child was placed in the care of a United States mine sweeper doing duty in foreign waters.

GIRLS ARE QUESTIONED BY WOMEN DETECTIVES.

My mother said the mother, "that it was a good thing that her daddy was in France, otherwise I am afraid something terrible would have happened."

Following the charges against Anthony, District Attorney Lindauer sent women detectives to the home and took the testimony of a number of other girls in the home. Several damaging stories against the superintendent of the home.

The arrest was based on the charge of only one of the girls in the home, and according to Lindauer, one of three of the girls of the institution will be called to testify against Anthony at the preliminary examination which has been set for next Wednesday.

Considerable mystery has been attached to the cases by the sudden disappearance from the home of two nurses. Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Lewis. One left the orphan home yesterday and another today. Where they have gone and why they left the home is a mystery to the authorities who are endeavoring to find a reason for the disappearance of the two nurses.

Anthony has been at the Good Templars' Home for four years. He formerly was in the real estate business in Santa Cruz.

Once before several years ago, the home was thrust into the spotlight of public interest when C. C. Dunning, a superintendent, was sent to San Quentin for thirty years because of an attack on a boy living at the home. The lad was crippled for life, it was charged.

Four years ago Lloyd Durney, another lad at the home, was found dead in an attic after he had been missing for a week. This mystery was never cleared.

Anthony, who was confined in the city prison at Vallejo until he was released on $2,000 bond, had been making any statement more than to deny the charges.

One Year Ago Germans Started Picardy Drive

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—One year ago today the German army, at the peak of its power, poured down on the British lines in Picardy, bent on winning an overwhelming victory before American troops should reach the front in force.

Today Germany no longer exists as a military power; her gigantic war machine has collapsed and the Americans sought to avoid stand astride the Rhine, shoulder to shoulder with the British and French and with all of Germany absolutely at its mercy.

When the cables on March 21, 1918, brought the news of the first terrific German onslaught, American effort, officers here today recalled, was striving toward the production of an army of five million men, equipped to bring victory in 1919. Within less than nine months the first and second armies had broken the very hinge of the whole enemy front with the capture of Sedan, while decided victories had been won by the British and French. It was then that to save themselves from the ignominy of having their army captured, the German leaders forced the flight of the emperor and surrendered as a nation.

Believing that his beautiful 17-year-old daughter is the victim of white slavers, William H. Lowery, prominent Antioch citizen, today started a hunt for his daughter, Miss Lilah Lowery, who has been missing from her home more than a week.

Inquiries at the office of the sheriff of Contra Costa county at Martinez, in information, the Contra Costa county authorities stating that they have not been notified of the disappearance of the girl.

The girl has been attending a convent in Rio Vista, and it is said, the father has not heard from her for three weeks. The girl's mother is dead and until three weeks ago there was a housekeeper employed by Lowery. Neighbors said that two weeks ago the housekeeper left Antioch for Oakland. They did not know her name.

At the convent the mother superior said that Miss Lowery left there a month ago to make her home with her father. The mother superior said she has been given to understand that a week after going to her home the girl disappeared. The mother superior had no further knowledge concerning the affair.

In Antioch today it was said that Lowery is in San Francisco or Oakland, and he has not called at police headquarters here, although the department has received a request to find and locate the girl.

SAN FRANCISCANS GET DEATH THREATS; BOMB PROBERS USE DATA ON REDS TO GET CLEWS

This is a reproduction of the envelope in which was mailed the C. C. of C. letter sent to Charles T. Hutchinson. The letter sent to the Greenwood home and those sent to other persons were addressed by the use of type probably the same as used to address the letter shown here.

Mafia Theory Is Abandoned by Police, Who Run Down Hints Involving Terrorists of the "Cat Claw" Type

Mysterious Death of I. W. W. Is Possible New Angle; Effort to Identify Photos of Agitators by Witnesses Fail

Two new clues were opened up today by the police and Federal post-office inspectors working on the dynamiting of the George Greenwood home, supposedly the work of the "C. C. of C." organization.

This was announced today by Captain of James T. Drew, who is in charge of the Oakland police after a lengthy conference between himself, Detectives Richard McSorley and William Kyle, the investigators on the case, and two postal inspectors whose names Drew refused to divulge.

"I can say one thing only; that for the first time since we started this investigation things look brighter," said Drew. Drew also admitted that the previous note received by Mrs. Herbert Hall, and which the police at first said was the work of some woman, possibly jealous, is being investigated again in connection with the case.

Events indicating that the Hall letter may after all have a bearing on the dynamiting that resulted in the death of Mrs. Greenwood.

DREW POSITIVE HE HAS TANGIBLE CLEW

"I will not give out any details of our new finds until we have chased the clues down," said Drew. "And I will give out no letters until further developments. But for the first time since the dynamiting I can positively say we have something."

Drew said there was no likelihood of any arrests before at least another day. The Federal officers for San Francisco shortly after noon.

Abandoning virtually every theory save that the "Cat's Claw Club," mysterious inner ring of I. W. W. dynamiters, was responsible for the dynamiting of the George Greenwood home, and the resultant death of Mrs. Greenwood, the police and district attorney's office today centered their attentions again on the letters, threats and clues in the various dynamitings and attempts at blackmail laid to the door of the radical inner circle.

MASS OF DATA ON RADICALS COLLECTED

A mass of data and a collection of letters, captured in investigations in San Francisco of I. W. W. plots, has been turned over to District Attorney Ezra Decoto. Detective Richard McSorley and Postoffice Inspector S. H. Morse went into consultation today in the city hall with the mysterious "death notes" received by local families and other data to work on.

Members of the I. W. W. who were tried at the Sacramento trial today were shown to persons who saw the mysterious home on the day of the tragedy, but they were unable to identify the men in the pictures as any of the "snail hunters." One of the young girls who saw the men said she saw a similarity between one of the men in the photos and one of the "snail hunters."

SAN FRANCISCANS GET DEATH LETTERS

One trail of the Greenwood bomb and murder mystery shifted to San Francisco today when it developed that a number of San Franciscans whose names are withheld by Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson had received duplicate letters to threaten their lives. Greenwald, blackmailing them for $5000 a death, being the threat in this case not forthcoming.

Copies of these letters were compared today, according to Matheson, with those received by various Oaklanders, which are in the possession of the Oakland police department, and were found to correspond in every respect.

These letters were not all signed C. C. of C., it was said, some of them being signed T. N. T. and K. O. D., the latter resembling the Knights of Death letter sent to Governor Spry of Utah. In each case, as in the letters compared today, the cyphers in the $5000 demanded were printed with a rubber stamp, the figure 5 being made with a pen.

POSSIBLE NEW FACTOR

Investigation today also included the mysterious death of George Scott, known to the police as one of the most prominent radical I. W. W. leaders in the State, whose body was found hanging in his room at 331

NEW BOMB DEVELOPMENTS

Police abandon Mafia and other theories in Greenwood bomb case to run down I. W. W. terrorist angle of murder. Mass of radical letters and other data figure in investigation.

Police learn that Mrs. Greenwood was slain on her return to the yard after being out of the garden on a short visit, possibly to a mailbox.

Persons who saw "snail hunters" near the Greenwood home are shown pictures of I. W. W.'s who were freed in Sacramento trials. No one is positive about the pictures, but young girl says one of strangers resembled one of the I. W. W.'s photo.

Mysterious death of George Scott, I. W. W., found hanging in his room in San Francisco is believed possible new clue in case.

Dr. M. M. Enos, who saw the three mysterious strangers, says he is now convinced they had no connection with the bomb. One of the strangers looked like an influenza patient whom he could not definitely place.

"Captain of Inspectors Drew announces after conference that two definite clues in bomb case are obtained. San Francisco people get letters from blackmailers demanding $5000 on penalty of death.

Third street, San Francisco, last night. Whether Scott was murdered, perhaps to prevent his telling something, or whether he killed himself, is still a mystery, but no motive is known for suicide, I. W. W. literature was found in his room and a collection of letters, which are now in the hands of the San Francisco police neutrality bureau.

Several "leads" were run down last night by the Oakland police, only to prove useless. Monroe Greenwood, who was reported to have been seen at the Greenwood home before the explosion, was in the yard, intended for a prank, and Harry Magoo, a friend of his were questioned. There had been a rumor that young Magoo had been bombed back from the naval training station at Pensacola, where he recently served, and the story told the police by certain volunteer investigators was to the effect that one of these bombs might have been in the yard, intended for a prank, and Harry Magoo, a friend of his were questioned. Wetmore to Work for Grapegrowers
STOCKTON, March 21.—Louis S. Wetmore, a prominent winery owner, leaves Sunday for Washington to look into the interests of grape growers and to determine whether California wineries will be permitted to make wine this year. It is understood that people may, under the war-time regulations, make wine for their own use, and wine men hope that the government will interpret this provision to mean that wineries may make wine if they wish to take chances on selling it in the event President Wilson declares the army demobilized before July 1 of this year.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Three speeders are serving today jail sentences imposed by Police Judge John A. Sullivan.

Roy Stewart, 1620 Leavenworth street, charged with driving thirty miles an hour along Van Ness avenue, was given three days.
Alfonso Ventura, driver for the California Star Company, charged with driving on the wrong side of a safety station was sentenced to serve five days in the city prison.

NEW PACIFIC FLEET TO GET BIG RECEPTION

Preliminary plans for the reception of the American battleships and destroyers making up the new Pacific fleet, have been given impetus by Rear Admiral Jayne, commander of the Twelfth Naval District, in a communication to the state board of harbor commissioners.

The new fleet, designed for the defense of the Pacific Coast of the United States, and such other duties as the exigencies of statecraft may demand, will be the largest aggregation of naval vessels to steam through the Golden Gate since the visit to this port about a decade ago of the American around-the-world fleet. It will arrive here within the next three months.

With a view to quartering members of its crews ashore, Admiral Jayne has requested the board of harbor commissioners to renew the navy's permit to occupy pier 7 across the bay indefinitely. This wharf was used by the Naval Port Guard under Lieutenant Commander P. K. Nash during the war, and in its sheds were housed several hundred blue-jackets whose duties involved the protection of shipping in San Francisco harbor.

Admiral Jayne explained that because of the fittings that were installed during the occupancy of the Port Guard the barracks at the pier would make an ideal station for men ashore from the vessels of the Pacific fleet.

Salvation Army Lassie Enjoys Refusing Money

MISS RUTH STONE.

Crippled Boy's Subscription Is Only One Accepted Until Campaign Opens.

To be young, to be pretty, to be offered money, and to turn it aside with a smile and the shake of the head is the claim Miss Ruth Stone, Salvation Army lassie, has a distinction. She is in charge of the Salvation Army home service booth at the Oakland Automobile Show. The fame of the Army and the beauty of Miss Stone have appealed to the motorists and the hundreds of visitors, and a stream of gold might have been poured into her lap. But Miss Stone put away the gifts and gave into the hand of men and women the story of the organization which she represents.

"All I have to do here," explains Miss Stone, "is to turn down money. It's a wonderful job."

Hardy Hutchinson and other business men in charge of the financial committee on behalf of the Salvation Army, planned that they would accept no money until next Monday, when the whirlwind drive would open.

There was one contribution, however, that was not turned down. S. Plummer of 1534 Third avenue, a cripple, hobbled into the Salvation Army headquarters yesterday and made a $10 subscription.

"All I do not get out very often, but I read that you people needed money, and I want to make my donation," he explained.

Lyne Stanley, who is in charge of the stunt committee, announces that he will have a program of surprise for Saturday evening when the campaign will be formally opened. According to Stanley, there will be bands, red fire, besides former Chief of Police, now U. S. Army Captain Walter J. Petersen, and other features.

Dynamite Is Found Concealed in Wall

PORTLAND, Ore., March 21.—Twenty-five sticks of fresh dynamite, a pair of old greasy overalls and a sharp-pointed pick on exhibit at police headquarters are being viewed today by inspectors who would clear up the mystery enveloping their original ownership.

The bundle was brought to light by a workman when he swung his pick at the side of an old wall being demolished before beginning excavation for a new building. Ripping off the boards it loosened, his pick was found caught in a pair of old trousers, caught between the inner and outer walls. The dynamite and pick were found wrapped in them.

MISS VERNA MERSEAU, who will appear in the prologue to "The Heart of Humanity" at the Kinema next week.

Miss Verna Mersereau, motion picture and vaudeville star, well known on the Orpheum and Pantheons circuits, will appear in person in the spectacular prologue which will be included in the de luxe presentation of "The Heart of Humanity" at the Kinema Sunday and all next week.

Resonant Traversa is producing the originally devised prologue. Madame Stella Jellica, grand opera soprano, will be one of the assisting artists. Others who will appear are Joseph Manning, who has played with Pavaneham and Forbes-Robertson, and Alansworth and St. John, popular vaudeville team, in dance specialties.

"The Heart of Humanity" is a pulsating epic of the emotions, second only to "The Heart of the World."—Advertisement.

BARRACKS LIFE BEGUN BY GIRLS

One hundred and twenty-five yeomanettes at Mare Island began barracks life yesterday. In accordance with a recent order of the new commandant, Captain Edward L. Beach, the girls were yesterday assigned to barracks. Twenty-five girls comprise a unit, each of which is in charge of a yeomanette designated as "Jimmylegs." The "Jimmylegs" have the rank of chief yeoman in the navy.

Barracks life for the girls marked a new era in the history of the American and all other navies. Placing the girls on the same status as men is regarded by some as a distinct step toward equality of woman and for the most part the girls gladly complied with the barracks order.

Routine life for the girls will be the same as for the men, reveille at 6:30, breakfast half an hour later. The first day of barracks life convinced the girls that Uncle Sam was a generous provider, for not one of them was able to "get away" with the breakfast provided. Percy Wright, master of arms, is the officer who has supervision over the barracks in this city since the early days of the war. Recently the city council ordered the former stop service re-installed.

Alameda Ship-Stop Plan Is Abandoned

ALAMEDA, March 21.—Linenmen of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway are removing the ship-stop signs and replacing them with signs on each street crossing on the Alameda lines, preparatory to the abandonment of the ship-stop service which has been in effect in this city since the early days of the war. Recently the city council ordered the former stop service re-installed.

Pollyanna, Misty-Eyed and Gay Viola Harper Is Wistful Heroine

By AD SCHUSTER.

If you have ever been seventeen and a boy you will remember, perhaps, an evening when you pressed the best suit and donned the special necktie, and, resplendent and unabashed, went forth to escort to the "opera house" a girl who was also seventeen. And if you were fortunate the play was one of those that are filled with throat-catches, misty smiles and merriment, one in which there was an old bachelor hiding the wounds of disappointed love, a light-hearted girl who said things meant just for you and the one beside you, and through it all and above all ran the theme that young love and young hearts may make over the world. And you with your weight of years didn't call it sentimental—you knew it for the truth.

If you were seventeen last night and saw "Pollyanna" at the Liberty Theater you will know what I mean or else the golden age nowadays isn't the same as it was. For "Pollyanna" is a play for the seventeen in all of us, a Daddy-Long-Legsish, Mary-Careyish, Love-Maryish sort of a play in which there is the combination of wistful appeal and joyous relief that has been responsible for any number of stage successes and reputations.

Viola Harper was the pathetically brave little girl of the story, a wisp of a girl with a real "glad" smile and a trick of voice that brought tears to the eyes of the most stolid. She made the most of her big scenes and voiced her Peter-Panish appeal at the last in as winsome a way as the sentiment in us could have wished.

The story, else it wouldn't belong to the school, concerns an orphan girl who is not wanted in the home to which she comes and of her making over the lives of her elders by nothing more than her lovable personality. This much is the recipe for the dozen wistful-wistful stage-stories that have won for their clean and close-to-the-heart qualities.

In support Blanche Douglas as Aunt Polly was most presentable in appearance and effort, while the John Pendleton (the Daddy-Long-Legs) suffered only in the emotional

AUTO POLISH SALE Tried on Judge

They rolled the bones, talked about the decks and the sharper, who has "a bus on his knee," veered into patent safety locks, automobile polish, and legal definitions of vagrancy in Judge Samuel's court this morning when Charles Morrow, alleged card sharper, was on trial for vagrancy.

Morrow attempted to prove he wasn't a vagrant by attempting to sell the judge some of "the finest auto polish ever made," throwing in a chamomile tea for good measure. The sale failed.

When officers arrested Morrow at the Star Card Room, 612 and Washington streets, they found a queen of clubs in his pocket, they said.

"It's human nature to try to get the best of things; even the police do it," he is alleged to have said to the officers.

"Didn't he say anything about lawyers and judges?" asked Prosecutor Hennnessy.

"I presume he incited them in the expression, 'human nature,'" said Sergeant Ed Brogan.

Attorney Ed Skinner objected on the ground that it was a conclusion of the witness.

"He had a reputation for being crooked and had been warned. He said he had only been barred off Seventh street," testified Corporal Thomas O'Neill.

"Thought it was all right to be crooked on Eighth street, but not on Seventh street, did he?" asked Hennnessy.

"He has the reputation of not being an honest gambler," said O'Neill.

The police testified that they did not arrest "honest" card gamblers. Morrow's case will be decided later.

HE NEVER FELT BETTER IN LIFE

San Francisco Man Has Gained Twenty Pounds by Taking Taniac.

"Yes, sir, it's a fact, this time last month I was one of the sickest men you ever saw," said D. J. Carbery of 33 Hamorton avenue, San Francisco, "and today I feel as well and strong as I ever felt in my life."

Mr. Carbery was born and reared in San Francisco. He is an expert mechanic, specializing on air brakes, and has been employed for the past number of years by the Municipal Street Railway Company.

"I had not been taking Taniac much more than a month," he continued, "when I found I had actually gained 20 pounds. I am five pounds heavier now than I have been in seven years and hardly a day passes but what some friend asks me what I have been doing to make me so stout and healthy looking. Well, I guess I can congratulate myself that I have been doing for I certainly was in about as bad shape as pneumonia could leave a man in. The day I came from the hospital I was so weak I just could not stand on my feet. I had no appetite and my stomach was awfully weak. I had been troubled with indigestion before and now I couldn't eat anything without bloating all up with gas and having terrible pains in the pit of my stomach. My back, right over my kidneys, got to hurting me a whole lot. I was badly exhausted and so weak that it would constipate and so weak that it would give me any strength, I was getting alarmed."

One day a friend came out home to see me and told me if I would take Taniac it would fix me up so I would get my strength back. Then I took it and went down town and myself so he brought me out a bottle and when it was gone I was able to go for the second one myself. Now I can say Taniac is the greatest medicine I ever saw or heard of. I had not been taking it very long until I was back on my job and now I just feel fine all the time. It was almost worth being sick to get to feeling like I do now. For the pneumonia, but my stomach trouble is gone, too, and I have more strength and energy than I have had in ten years. I am recommending Taniac to all my friends and why not, for it certainly has put me on my feet and I believe it will help anyone who is in a run-down condition."

Taniac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

PUNY, WEAK BOY

Made Strong and Well by Vinol—Why It Is Best for Children.

Williamson, W. Va.—"My little boy was quite puny and weak all the time, did not want to do anything. Vinol was recommended and it has built up his strength and made him healthy."—Harley Clay, Williamson, W. Va.

The reason Vinol was so successful in this case is because it contains beef and cod liver oil, iron, and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, run-down system, make rich, red blood and create strength.

Time Brings Knowledge That by Use of Penetrating Remedy Suffering Is Avoided.

Thousands of women have found by the application of Mother's Friend, the penetrating external remedy, prepared especially for expectant mothers, that pain and suffering at the crisis is avoided and that in addition the months preceding the crisis are free from nervousness, headache, back pain and the long-drawn pains and general discomfort. Mother's Friend makes it possible for the expectant mother to live peacefully and calmly through the crisis and the hours at the crisis will be less. The remedy is one of calm repose and restful nights.

By the use of Mother's Friend the skin is kept soft and natural, and experienced mothers say that it is much better to keep your health and good looks during the period of expectancy than to try to keep them afterward.

Machinists Endorse Committee's Action

At the regular weekly meeting last night of the Oakland Machinists' Union, the members sustained the refusal of the executive committee to accept the proposition submitted by the employers to establish the 44-hour working week on May 1. P. W. Buckley, business agent of the union, states that the refusal of the committee was unanimously endorsed. The proposal was for the men to return to work in the shipyards and outside shops of the Eastbay district on a 44-hour working week basis, the employers agreeing in that case, to permanently establish the Saturday half-holiday on May 1.

Body of Lightship Tender Is Found

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—After floating in the bay for three weeks, the body of John J. Dunlea, aged lightship tender, was found floating near Goat Island yesterday. On March 1, Dunlea fell from Lightship No. 76, which was then harbored in the bay. Wednesday the body of another man was found in the bay and was supposed to be that of Dunlea. With the discovery of Dunlea's body, no accounting can be made for the other body.

A week. Confirmation of the stand taken by the striking machinists at the Marchant plant was also given, according to Buckley. The men will not return to work there, he states, until the foreman who is objectionable to them is discharged and their other demands are arbitrated satisfactorily.

TEN WOUNDED EASTBAY MEN REACH U. S.

Ten Eastbay men were among the wounded Californians included in the fifty members of the Fortieth Division which departed from the transport Luckenbach and entrained for Camp Merritt, N. J., late yesterday, at New York. The transport Dakota arrived in New York yesterday afternoon from St. Nazaire, France, bearing 655 men of the 114th Machine Gun Battalion of the Thirtieth division. The Dakota arrived one hour later with the 133rd field artillery, Thirty-sixth division. Lieutenant Don D. Hawley, 3830 Washington street, San Francisco, who was gassed in the Argonne and aboard the torpedoed Tuscania, describes the scene of the sinking vessel.

"While the newspapers gave a thrilling story about the Britishers singing 'God Save the King' and the Americans singing 'Star-Spangled Banner,' the truth was very different. The British didn't let out a chirp, while the Yanks sang 'Hail, Hail, the Gangs All Here,' and 'Where Do We Go From Here, Boys.'"

The local men who departed with part of the Fortieth Division yesterday are:

Major Lewis Greene, 2808 Clement avenue, Berkeley.
Sergeant Major William Rowland, San Jose.
Sergeant Major Richard Todd, 2807 Ninety-second avenue.
Sergeant John Ferreira, 5521 Vincennes street.
Sergeant Everett Williams, 1710 Myrtle street.
Sergeant Edward Bover, 474 Thirtieth street.
Sergeant Harry Work, Alameda.
Corporal Frank Allen, San Jose.
Corporal William Foss, Berkeley.
Private Delbert Howe, 128 Hamilton place.

Mothers' Advice

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with laziness, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better. Always complaining about her back and side aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the paper about your wonderful medicine and I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters.—Mrs. M. F. FROST, 515 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

IMMIGRATION OF JAPANESE STIRS PHELAN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—United States Senator James D. Phelan, in a cable message transmitted today to the peace conference in Paris, declared that the reported efforts of Japan to amend the league of nations constitution so that free immigration of Japanese would be permitted, presents a distinct menace to the future peace of the world. In setting forth the reasons which prompted him to send the cable, Senator Phelan said:

"We can no longer look with indifference upon the attempts of the Japanese to Japanese the Pacific coast as they have already Japanese Hawaii. It is this we are permitted to continue and to receive sanction from the league of nations constitution it would become a fruitful source of irritation and result in serious international difficulties. Nothing could be more dangerous to the peace of the world."

"The Japanese government prohibits the immigration of Chinese laborers into Japan for labor and racial reasons, and yet they seek constitutional permission to do this country with Japanese of all classes. In asking permission to do what they themselves do not allow, they have come into the court of nations with unequal hands."

"The Japanese are now coming to our behind their masked batteries. They have made clear their purposes. The people of the United States must immediately institute a counter propaganda movement."

Senator Phelan's cablegram to the American peace delegation follows:

"Japanese demand for free immigration has aroused the Pacific coast."

"Evidence of Japanese coming over border, a contemplated land purchase by a Japanese company in Mexico near the California state line, and enormously increased Japanese agricultural aggression have alarmed people."

"These problems are domestic and the league constitution should under no circumstances concede the Japanese demand."

"Japan now excludes Chinese coolies and has recently deported 500 such persons."

JOHN SCHULZ, artist and musician, accused of stealing clothing from the Fruitvale store of Joseph Krueger, was arraigned today in the court of Police Judge George Samuels. His examination was set for next week.

Naval Committee Here Tomorrow Alameda Base Advantages Recalled Helm Commission Report Quoted

The House naval committee arrives tomorrow morning to make Oakland its headquarters for its only visit to Northern California. The congressional party will be met on arrival and escorted to the Hotel Oakland by the following committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce:

Joseph J. Rosborough, Oakland postmaster; A. S. Lavenson, Fred Kahn, E. A. Vandevanter, and F. A. Leach, Jr., of Oakland; and Mayor Charles E. Hawes and Captain A. G. Tibbitts, representing Alameda.

WILL STUDY NAVAL BASE. The congressmen will be given every opportunity to study the Alameda naval base from the same standpoint as that of the Helm commission. Plans used by the commission will be provided, showing soundings, channels, tides and nature of foundations. In addition copies of the Helm report will be on hand so any question to come up can be answered at once.

This work will be in the hands of the following escort committee: H. C. Capwell, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; J. R. Miller, first vice president of the Chamber; George A. Arnes, second vice president of the Chamber, president of the Moore Shipbuilding Co.; C. C. Adams, president of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce; Mayor John L. Davis of Oakland; Mayor Greene Majors of Alameda; Chas. E. Hawes, city manager of Alameda; Captain Walter C. Tibbitts of the Alameda City Planning Commission; Joseph J. Rosborough, Oakland postmaster; Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of The Tribune; W. W. Chapin, publisher of the Enquirer; E. A. Vandevanter, publisher of the Post.

President Capwell has requested each member of this committee to be in a position to answer all questions of the congressmen. He points out particularly the following extracts:

"The choice of the most suitable location narrows down to site No. 1, Hunters Point, and site No. 7, Alameda. Site No. 7 has the important advantage over site No. 1 in that no purchase of land is involved. At the same time the cost of purchasing the land in connection with site No. 7 should not be more than about 3 per cent of the entire cost of development."

"Site No. 1 has the advantage over site No. 7 in that the dry dock can be built in rock. On the other hand, site No. 7 has the important advantage over site No. 1 as regards better foundation for all other structures."

"Site No. 7 has the advantage of being able to secure direct railroad connections more easily, being more convenient to the main railroad terminals on the coast, and in being able to obtain an unlimited supply of fuel oil by direct pipe line connection. Employees would be able to take advantage of the reasonable rents in the Alameda district."

"Site No. 7 in common with the Eastbay shore, claims a slightly milder and more pleasant climate over portions of the west bay shore. 'Alameda, site No. 7, is within range of indirect fire, as also is Hunters Point, site No. 1; but the former has the advantage in being about ten miles from the open sea, whereas the latter is only seven miles therefrom.'

"For the reason stated hereinabove, the commission finds that site No. 7 offers the greater advantages, and therefore designates Alameda, site No. 7, as the most suitable site for the 'additional navy yard on the Pacific coast,' and recommends that same be acquired and developed as such. The commission further recommends as its second and alternate choice site No. 1, Hunters Point."

The program for tomorrow has been arranged as follows:

7:55 A. M. Meet party at 16th Street station. Escort to Hotel Oakland for breakfast.

10:00 A. M. Leave Hotel Oakland for visit to Moore Shipyard, Bethlehem yard and Hamilton yard.

12 M. Return to Hotel Oakland.

2:05 P. M. Leave Thirteenth and Franklin by special car for Naval Base site. Return to Pacific Avenue Junction, Alameda. Take automobiles for trip through City of Alameda, visit to concrete shipyard and tour of Oakland and Berkeley.

5:30 P. M. Return to Hotel Oakland.

6:30 P. M. Leave for San Francisco for Phelan dinner.

11:00 P. M. Return to Hotel Oakland.

LONE BANDIT OBJECT OF POLICE HUNT

Search is under way for a lone bandit, who, armed with a nickel-plated revolver, last night robbed two women and escaped into the hills of the Leona Heights district. The footpad, according to the police, operated by following women when they alighted from street cars to go home, holding them up at the first available dark corner.

Mrs. G. H. Jackson complains that the robber accosted her after she had left her home at 4025 Brookdale avenue, menacing her with the gun and taking her purse. He then ordered her to walk quietly home, she says, while he fled.

Miss A. McNally, 5018 Track street, reports that about twenty minutes after the Jackson hold-up she was robbed as she left a Fifty-fifth avenue car, and says the footpad robbed her by snatching the mysterious footpad escaped in an automobile. She also describes a nickel-plated revolver used by the robber. She was relieved of $3 in silver.

Both women give accurate descriptions of the man, on which detectives are working.

"Santa Claus" Freed on Charge of Theft

C. W. Van Ness, who admitted the taking of a photograph and 75 records from the warehouse of H. L. Davis in order to bring a little Christmas cheer into his home, was acquitted by the jury in his case last night in Judge James G. Quinn's department. He said he thought it would not be a crime to take the property in view of the fact that Davis owed him money. Davis denied the debt, but that made no difference with the jury, who after a brief deliberation acquitted him. The Mrs. Gracco Cella of Oakland, and was in storage.

Germans Threaten to Attack Poles

PARIS, March 21.—The Germans are threatening to renew hostilities against the Poles in Posen, according to reliable reports received here. Peace delegates say such action would break the terms of the last armistice and would endanger the usefulness of the peace conference. It is noted how happy they were on Christmas day as a result of having the music. The photograph belonged to Mrs. Gracco Cella of Oakland, and was in storage.

Adela Garrison's New REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

In a moment I realized my mistake, however, for he held a waste paper basket filled with crumpled papers in his hand. I supposed, of course, that he wished them crumpled, and advanced to take the basket.

"Katie is busy just now," I said, "but I'll have her empty this and bring it up to you in a moment."

Dicky took his hat.

"No need to trouble her," he said, drawing the basket back. "I'll just put them in the furnace myself."

"Oh, Dicky," I protested, "don't do that! Jim has had a great deal of trouble with the fire this morning, and it's just beginning to draw well. If you pile those papers in there now you'll simply choke the fire. Empty them into the big basket and let Jim take them outside and burn them."

Dicky turned and stared at me unpleasantly.

"Will you kindly allow me to attend to my own business?" he said, and there was a sneer in his voice that pricked like a stiletto.

Why did Dicky display so much solicitude about the burning of the waste papers he brought down from his room, and where in the world had he kept so many of them hidden?

These were the questions that buzzed through my brain as I watched the man in the white shirt and tie, and the woman in the blue dress, who had been burning the papers in the furnace, incidentally ruining the fire and making the room a smoky torment for some time.

He couldn't possibly have used up so much paper in writing or in drawing in the short time he had been upstairs, and yet I had not seen a scrap of paper about his room for some time. I was sure of this, for I had remarked the fact with wonder, knowing Dicky's usually untidy habits. He must have kept them hidden in his locked desk and suitcase drawers, and only had disposed of the accumulation this morning.

But why such secrecy? I looked at the matter from all sides, while a hundred idle, ridiculous surmises crowded to me. Finally I resolutely dismissed the matter from my mind, and went about the odds and ends of packing for our prospective removal to the house we had bought.

HOW MADGE FOUND IT.

I went through all the rooms, pathing up the more fragile of my vases and ornaments, intending to wrap them in tissue paper and to pack them carefully in baskets, so they could be carried to the new home when any of us made a trip there. I had a foolish, feminine dread of tramping them to a pack.

It was on one of my trips to the dining-room, where I was packing the things from my room upstairs, that I noticed in a corner of the hall a large crumpled piece of paper.

My first thought was that Katie had been careless in her cleaning of the hall the day before, and I picked up the piece of paper to carry it to the kitchen. It had been carefully crumpled, and from a corner of it came words in Dicky's handwriting stored up at me.

"Now forever your own."

Fortunately I had nothing in my hands but some large sheets of tissue paper. By the abruptness with which they dropped to the floor, I could judge the fate of any breakable thing I had chance to have such in my hands.

For a long moment I stood motionless, my eyes fixed on the words in Dicky's handwriting. Then, leaving the tissue paper where it had fallen on the floor, I fled upstairs to my own room, clutching the piece of paper in my hand.

"NOW AND FOREVER."

I closed and locked the door, and sat down breathless in a low chair. The sight of those words in Dicky's handwriting had turned my world upside down. Curiously enough I could think of nothing but the expression upon the face of Edith Fairfax, the art student from Virginia, when in the restaurant where we casually met I had seen her look at Dicky all unconscious of the love for him her face betrayed. I tried to tell myself that I had no possible reason to connect these words in my husband's handwriting with Edith Fairfax, but I couldn't rid myself of the obsession.

A moment later I deliberately smoothed out the crumpled paper and read its contents. I do not remember that I was troubled by any scruples concerning it. I would not have read a letter addressed to Dicky, but this was a dropped, crumpled piece of paper which I had seen first by accident. Although I knew that Dicky had never meant my eyes to see it, yet I resumed that words such as I had seen in my husband's handwriting were sufficient excuses for my curiosity.

It seemed to be a fragment of a letter, queerly enough written twice. At the top of the page the lines were written in a delicately feminine hand, and then the same words, with a few changes, were written at the bottom of the sheet in Dicky's handwriting.

"It is no use," the fragment began, "I have tried and tried, but I cannot do it. You are as much a part of me, my darling, as the blood that flows from my heart. I have remembered the lines that had you prayed that I might be given strength to go away from you. But I think God has forsaken me. Only the one longing remains in my heart—to be with you, to call you mine."

"Just Hats"

By Vyvyan

This right side of this hat is indeed favored. The right side of the crown is bedecked in tiny tassels, and at the right side of the brim is a broad bit of sash that boasts six tassels of its own!

Dresses That Span "The Difficult Age" With Real Grace

A silken sash with dainty haste Delinda knotted round her waist And as she tied it in a bow She caught my heart right in, you know.

Content I'd bide At her sweet side Could I but be the beau she tied.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Of course it's humiliating and prosaic to be tied to a pair of apron strings, but what better fate could a mere man ask than to be attached to the silken floating strands of the gorgeous ribbon sashes fetching females are now all wrapped up in.

A frock without a sash these first spring days is like a Julep without mint. After June 29, of course, we'll find that's just a mere detail, but at present it's the details that count. A sash is just that right piquant detail that breaks the plain dark length of line with a splash of color and adds savor and flavor to a frock. Really, a waist without a sash is not a waist of the times, but a waste of time.

Wonderful in coloring and design are the wide ribbons offered to sash femininity. They are irresistible and it is no wonder Dame Fashion is all enmeshed in their coils.

The luster of metallic threads plays a bright part in the warp and woof of them and the old Byzantine stripes of the old Roman sashes turn most any dark gown into a veritable Roman holiday.

Usually on dark-toned satin or tulle dresses, navy, black or taupe, the gay hand sashes lie up to the great advantage, but a rose pink tulle evening gown, worn in "Up in Mabel's Room," is one of the most effective color combinations of the season. The regulation draped pink tulle skirt is tight at the feet and outflared over the hips.

The bodice, which is too slight for honorable mention, is joined to the skirt by the wide sash of a black bark-draped ribbon, striped with red and yellow roses shot with silver. This ribbon sash is knotted in the back and one long end falls and trails on the floor in the form of a train.

Of course, if you own a really old sash of your childhood days, it is much classier than the newest imitating ribbons. A lucky debutante was the envy of all beholders the other day, sporting a charming old sash of her mother's youth. It was of yellow satin, chenille fringed, and embroidered on each end with rosebuds and forget-me-nots in chenille. She wore it with a smoke-gray Georgian dress.

Chenille fringe for the sash ends is particularly smart and long chenille tassels are also effective.

Aprons of getting out your old sashes would better shake the lavender out of your old lace collars at the same time.

The exquisite irony that of a cobwebby real old lace collar is the last word in perfection to top off the black satin draped gown that is the necessity of Everywoman's spring wardrobe. It makes no difference what shape or kind your collar is, just so it is hand-made of course, and a bit yellowed with age.

A clever dressmaker who wishes to get the best effect out of some lovely old lace collar which thread their mad, white deep rose sailor effect, in the front, in a quiet, bib-like manner. The result is most artistic and suggests that if we are going to turn backward for our fashions we may as well turn some of them forward, to even things up a bit.

GARY'S BEDTIME STORY

(By Howard R. Gary.)

"Uncle Wiggly, are you going to be very busy this morning?" asked Nurse Jane Puzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper in the hollow stump bungalow, one day.

"Oh, not so very," answered the bunnymonkey gentleman. "I have plenty of time to eat a strawberry shortcake if you want to make one." "It's a little too far from summer to think of strawberries," said Nurse Jane with a laugh. "But if I had some pepper I could make a cheese pudding, and you like that very much."

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggly. "I do. But excuse me—pepper? I don't like pepper. It makes me sneeze!" "Yes, too much will make you sneeze," spoke Nurse Jane, "but I just want the least little bit on the cheese when I make a pudding. You need pepper to bring out the real flavor of the cheese. But my pepper box is empty."

"Then I'll make a pudding," said Nurse Jane. "You are a new one," said Uncle Wiggly, most kindly. "I like cheese pudding, and if you need pepper to make one, I'll get some of the sneezing stuff." "Get it in a tin box, with little holes in the top, so I may sprinkle the pepper out easily," advised Nurse Jane. "I'm that way it won't make you sneeze so much. If you are careful, pepper is in boxes with tiny holes for the sneezing top."

"I'll be very careful," promised the bunnymonkey. So he gave his pink nose an extra twinkle or two, in case he should happen to sneeze unexpectedly like, and off he started, rumbling through the woods and over the fields to the store where a monkey doddie gentleman sold pepper in tin boxes with tiny holes for the sneezing top.

"Good morning, Uncle Wiggly," welcomed the monkey doddie and the bunnymonkey.

The oriental influence is strongly apparent in this unusual gown. It is of blue tricot, fashioned in long lines with a barrel effect in the silhouette, which is just the thing for the young lady who is very tall.

Freedom's Friends

We have spoken through our guns: They have shrieked our love of right, We have spoken through our sons

Who have gladly borne the fight. We have told the crushed and weak That we serve no selfish creeds; Now for justice let us speak Through the glory of our deeds.

On the far-flung battle line We have battled for the truth. As a pledge for all that's fine We have sacrificed our youth. We have fought as freedom's friend, Now the thundering cannon cease

And the warfare's at an end, Let us be as brave in peace.

In the heat and pain of strife And the turmoil of the test We have guarded human life And have rescued the oppressed.

And we boasted that we sought Only freedom for the world; Let us live as we have fought Now the battle flags are furled.

We have written it in blood That for justice we will die. We have braved the ocean's flood Making truth our battle cry. We have pledged ourselves to seek Only joys which we may give; Now for justice let us speak. And for justice let us live.

ample storage space this is no problem, for her increasing store of preserves becomes a source of pride. But the city woman who has but a restricted space is anxious to use well the output of last year so that there may be space for the new supply.

Jams and preserved fruit can be used in many ways besides a mere spread for bread or a side dish at meals. In fact, by using up jams the economical housewife can save sugar, fresh fruit, and in some cases fats.

JELLY SALAD DRESSING.

2 tablespoons of oil
2 tablespoons of vinegar
1 teaspoonful of salt
1-4 teaspoonful of pepper
1-4 teaspoonful of paprika
2 tablespoons of jelly

Put the salt, pepper, paprika, oil and jelly in a bowl. Mix well by stirring; add slowly the vinegar and stir vigorously, and continue to stir it until the mixture shows signs that the vinegar and oil are blended. This salad dressing should be used once for the ingredients will separate if allowed to stand.

PINEAPPLE PIE.

5 cups of flour
1 1/2 cups of shortening
1 cup of water
1/2 cup of baking powder
1/2 cup of sugar
1/2 cup of salt
1/2 cup of oil
1/2 cup of vinegar
1/2 cup of sugar
1/2 cup of salt

Sift the flour and baking powder together. Add the shortening and salt and mix into a smooth, stiff dough. Cover a pie plate with the dough and heap the preserved pineapple in the center of the pie. Sprinkle with sugar to sweeten. If the preserves are too juicy add a teaspoonful or more of flour with sugar to thicken. Cover with a layer of the dough thinly rolled and place in a moderate oven, and allow to bake from 20 to 30 minutes.

Club Changes From Hospital to Gay Garden

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

It is a far cry from a grim emergency hospital filled with terror-stricken influenza patients to a gay garden filled with climbing vines, and the perfume of fruit blossoms—yet that change is what happened to the Adelphi Club within a few short months. Last fall Adelphi women turned their beautiful club house into a hospital, for as long as it was needed, and today they assemble for luncheon in that same club house made more beautiful by the exquisite decorations. Only rampant, Oriental in effect, turned the club-rooms into a garden. The table which the luncheon guests were seated at was a miniature garden itself, with a lake bordered with foliage in which Oriental birds and butterflies were sailed fairy boats of old China.

The dramatic section of Adelphi Club presented a Chinese play entitled "Ways That Are Dark," dealing with present-day China which, despite its intricate politics, is steeped in superstition. The members of the cast were Mrs. Joseph Ennis, Mrs. A. Latham, Mrs. A. E. Lorber and Mrs. Louis Ward.

The Girls' Glee Club of Alameda High School contributed music between the two acts of the play. Seated at the guest table were the following women: Mrs. Mildred Husbands, president of Adelphi Club; Mrs. William H. Husbands, president of Oakland Club; Mrs. George Preston, president of Glenview; Mrs. Frederick A. Husbands, president of 20th Century Club; Miss Jessie Lee Briggs, president of Laurel Hill; Mrs. Edward J. Wales, president of the club; Mrs. Katherine A. Smith, president of Alameda district, Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Cecil Mark, president of Corona; Mrs. Meyer Friedman, president of Philadelphia; Mrs. Charles S. Alton, president of Second District, Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Ella M. Sexton, president of Cap and Belle; Mrs. Wade Williams, president of Pansy; Mrs. Charles H. Husbands, president of Sorosis; Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College; Mrs. T. C. Hubbard, president of the California Club; Mrs. Walter S. Byington, president of the San Francisco Mills Club; Mrs. S. Johnson, president of the Tenth and Corn; Mrs. Robert Watt, president of New Century Club; Mrs. Frank Howard Payne, representing the Piano. Besides these presidents, the following Adelphi women were seated at the guest table: Miss Belle Garretson, Mrs. W. W. Barton, Miss Ida Spencer, Mrs. William Shepard, Mrs. Robert Clark, Miss Isabelle Linderman, Mrs. William R. Sharretson, Mrs. Henry H. Elder, Mrs. Wallace Mercede, Mrs. John H. Merrill, Mrs. Robert Lewis Hill, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. A. O. Gott and Mrs. Mary Parkhurst.

MOTHERS ASKED TO SEND RESOLUTIONS.

Mrs. Claude Hamilton Mitchell, chairman of the committee on resolutions, for the Second District convention, requests that all mothers' clubs who wish to present resolutions to the convention, which meets in Berkeley April 23-25, send such resolutions to her before April 26.

She asks further that the copies of these resolutions be neatly typed, that the presiding officer may not be confused by having to decipher hand writing with which she is not familiar.

WOMEN TO CONSIDER GRAVE BUSINESS.

The nominating committee to whom is delegated the important (and tedious) business of selecting the officers whose names will be presented for election at the convention of the Alameda district, Federation of Women's Clubs, will meet Saturday afternoon at the Oakland Club to deliberate on the selection.

HILL CLUB PRESENTS GOOD PROGRAM.

The Hill Club will meet on Monday, March 24, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Carriek, 12 Marinova avenue. The meeting, at which Mrs. J. H. Maylan and Dr. Margaret Maylan acted as joint hostesses, was marked by touches characteristic of St. Patrick and his day, both as to decorations and program. A bit of real shamrock accompanied the cup of tea which always concludes the Monday afternoon of song and story which the members of the Hill club enjoy every week.

The following program at the last meeting was received with enthusiasm:

- My Laddie.
- By the Waters of Minnetonka.
- Keep.
- Miss Irene Ayres.
- Accompanist, Mrs. R. A. Wilson.
- Readings: "The Piece of String."
- "The Neckline."
- Moonlight.
- Mrs. H. M. Hastings.
- Piano duet—
- Semiramide.
- Mrs. Crafts and Mrs. Ryan.
- Songs: "An Irish Love Song."
- "Her Rose."
- "Lassie o' Mine."
- Miss Ayres.

ALAMEDA JOINS MOTHERS' FEDERATION.

With the organization of the Porter School Mothers' Club on Thursday afternoon, March 27, Alameda will have added its fifth club to its roster of Parent-Teacher Associations, and will thereby have become eligible to admission to the Second District as a Federation.

The other four schools in the Encinal City boasting a Mothers' Club are the Washington, Everett, Lincoln and Haight.

Many of the officials of the Second District will officiate at the organization ceremonies.

Among them will be Mrs. J. Koughan of Berkeley, Mrs. P. J. Kramer, Mrs. A. P. Thurston and Mrs. J. W. Comstock of Oakland.

TEACHERS TO HEAR FAMILIAR SUBJECT.

Tomorrow will see all the educators on this side of the bay assembled at the Oakland Hotel for luncheon, not only for the pleasure of meeting each other and having a perfectly good time, but to listen to Will C. Wood, state superintendent of schools, on "Educational Legislation." It is unfortunate that the persons who will hear Wood talk are the very ones who understand so well why they want certain measures passed by the California Legislature. A majority of the presidents of mothers' clubs have signed their intention of attending, so that the speaker is assured of a big and attentive audience.

Reservations may be had up to noon tomorrow through Mrs. Sue Fratis, City Hall.

NEW WOMAN'S CLUB.

The new list of the National League for Woman's Service Club, at 233 Kearny street, San Francisco, is proving steadily and the attendance is proving the need of just such a democratic place for women of affairs in San Francisco.

For the present the club is open daily from 10 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. to all women interested, even though they are not members. This is a means, of course, of acquainting them with the advantages, conveniences and comforts of the club. When the 1920 membership is reached, the list will of necessity be closed.

Arrangements are being made to enlarge the lunch room, and the attendance already demands it.

Business and professional women are especially urged to patronize the club, and also enjoy the fine luncheon and library in the evenings, where luncheon and books of art, music and science or the best novels and books of travel may be found.

Members of the league act as hostesses, both during the day and in the evening, and will gladly welcome any woman interested.

Mrs. Wm. Ridout Leaves For Home in South

A coterie of friends of Mrs. William Ridout assembled at the station this morning to bid her farewell, the young matron leaving for New Orleans, where she is to make her home from now on. Mrs. Ridout has already gone to the southern city, where he is engaged in work for the government. There, a pretty home awaits Mrs. Ridout. Recently Mrs. Jacob Green Jackson entertained at tea for the popular matron, who will be missed by many friends in the bay section in the future. For several years the Ridouts have resided in an attractive home in Piedmont.

A number of pleasant affairs are to be given for Miss Mildred Schmidt, a charming Berkeley bride-elect, whose marriage to Carl Frederick Volker, clubman, will take place this spring. Miss Schmidt will take home at tea on April 5 for Miss Schmidt and Saturday evening, March 29, Mr. and Mrs. Daphne Reed will hostess at the home of the bride-elect. Twenty of the younger girls shared the hospitality of Mrs. Frank Dooling Thursday afternoon.

FRIDAY NIGHT IS SET FOR DANCE.

The date for the Belgian Baby Dance to be given at the Twentieth Century Club in Channing way by the members of the Delta Gamma society, who have been carrying on this work during the period of the war. Thirty little children are cared for under the auspices of this society, and for their maintenance a benefit affair is given every so often. Miss Priscilla Reed of Alameda, Miss Margaret Morgan and Miss Lorna Birken are the trio of college girls arranging the affair.

ENGAGEMENT IS TOLD TO FRIENDS.

An engagement which concerns the girls of the state is of interest to Oakland society, news of the betrothal having come from Potluna, Miss Louisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McNear of that city, will become the bride of Lieutenant Colonel Howard C. Naffiger, U. S. A., of the bay section the betrothal was told at a luncheon given for Miss Emilio.

Tubbs, fiancée of Albert Dunedin Shaw.

The couple are to be married in June and the future home is to be in San Francisco.

Miss McNear is the true type of California girl.

loving the outdoors sports and the sun. She has been associated in prominent business and social interests in the state for many years. She is a granddaughter of the late John A. McNear, who with his brother, the late George W. McNear of Oakland, was one of the founders of the city.

Mrs. George Nickel and Mrs. E. Swift.

Train are her cousins.

Miss Janet Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Knox of Berkeley.

is to give a delightful vocal program at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlain of Elmworth street this evening. The Chamberlains have extended many invitations to friends to hear Miss Knox, who is so well known as a leader in the Red Cross Motor corps in Berkeley.

Mrs. Frederick G. Wright was hostess this afternoon at luncheon for a group of her intimate friends including Mrs. Harold Atkinson, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. Clarence L. Johnston, Mrs. Clyde Swick, Mrs. Franklin Noyes Dewey of Alameda, and Mrs. Augustus Johnson. The luncheon table was artistic in its decoration of fruit and spring blossoms.

Mrs. Wright received word from Dallas, Tex., of the birth of a little daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colins Jordan of that city. Mrs. Jordan was formerly Miss Lydia Wright and one of the most popular of the younger girls in the Eastbay district.

Record Sale of Residence Made.

Papers went on record today representing what is said to be the largest single sale of improved residence property ever successfully negotiated in the Eastbay district. The property sold was the Mrs. James L. Lombard home in Crocker Highlands. The sale was handled by Wickham Havens Incorporated and the total transaction represented an investment on the part of the buyer of $124,000.

The Lombard house was built in 1915 after the plans of Young and Macintosh, a firm of English architects, and is considered to be one of the most perfect examples of an English home in the Lake district.

Wickham Havens reports an active demand for homes of this character and has on hand several sales of similar magnitude.

"This transaction, as far as we are able to determine, beats the record of local residence property sales," said Havens. "There have been a number of sales recently of $20,000 and $30,000 places, but nothing to approach the total of the Lombard sale has been recorded. Our offices, however, are working right now upon two or three propositions of a similar character."

Havens contemplates an unusually active realty market and figures that the sales of large magnitude now being made are strong indications of a coming demand for realty that will eclipse any hand market Oakland ever experienced.

"Realty values in Oakland, as a rule, are low," continued Havens. "This is especially true in reference to the high-class residence properties of the Lake district. In such cities as Seattle and Los Angeles similar holdings are being sold for twice the price asked in Oakland. The finest residence lots around San Francisco bay can be bought now at $50 a front foot, while in Seattle similar property brings from $80 to $100 a foot, and in Los Angeles from $100 to $150 a foot. I think that our people will soon wake up to the real value of—and when they do it will be only a matter of passing comment to sell a $124,000 residence."

ROOSEVELT TREE DAY.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The tree planting day this spring, to be known as "Roosevelt Day," is planned by the Shalom Community Center, of Farmington, Iowa, according to a report to the American Forestry Association from Rev. Edward Roberts.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. King's New Discovery Has a Fifty Year Record Behind It

It built its reputation on its production of positive results, on its success in relieving the throat irritation of colds, coughs, grippe and bronchitis attacks.

"Dr. King's New Discovery? Why my folks wouldn't use anything else!" That's the general nationwide esteem in which this well-known remedy is held. Its action is prompt, its taste pleasant, its relief gratifying.

mand for homes of this character and has on hand several sales of similar magnitude.

"This transaction, as far as we are able to determine, beats the record of local residence property sales," said Havens. "There have been a number of sales recently of $20,000 and $30,000 places, but nothing to approach the total of the Lombard sale has been recorded. Our offices, however, are working right now upon two or three propositions of a similar character."

Havens contemplates an unusually active realty market and figures that the sales of large magnitude now being made are strong indications of a coming demand for realty that will eclipse any hand market Oakland ever experienced.

"Realty values in Oakland, as a rule, are low," continued Havens. "This is especially true in reference to the high-class residence properties of the Lake district. In such cities as Seattle and Los Angeles similar holdings are being sold for twice the price asked in Oakland. The finest residence lots around San Francisco bay can be bought now at $50 a front foot, while in Seattle similar property brings from $80 to $100 a foot, and in Los Angeles from $100 to $150 a foot. I think that our people will soon wake up to the real value of—and when they do it will be only a matter of passing comment to sell a $124,000 residence."

AUTO SHOW DRAWS LARGER CROWDS NIGHTLY

ATTENDANCE GROWS DAILY AT BIG SHOW

Road Maps Attract Tourists Tribune Series Prove Great Success

What has been declared by many motorists to be one of the most interesting features of the automobile show is the TRIBUTE Road Map Display. Over thirty different tours to California's most scenic points have been logged in an easily interpreted manner during the past two years by The TRIBUNE Automotive Department. Originally they have appeared in the Sunday morning Automobile Section. They are immediately reprinted on a very good grade of paper that will withstand considerable abuse and are distributed free at The TRIBUNE Touring Bureau, 1422 San Pablo Avenue.

While no attempt has been made to keep accurate check on the number of motorists who secure information and road data, it is conservative to state that during the summer months the callers at the San Pablo Avenue office reached an average total of six hundred weekly. The TRIBUNE is indeed proud to be able to furnish help of this character and its purpose in securing space at the present show was solely to augment the present bureau.

men have received from the East-bay public during the present week, in the shape of additional sales, has been so far in advance of pre-show calculations that more than one "speed 'em up" call will go forth to Eastern factories for hurried shipments of increased allotments to this territory.

The course of the motor industry since December first has been as interesting to watch as a White Sox victory in a world series game would be for a South Side Chicago regarding production resumption plans. Slowly the restrictions were removed and then came a confident and almost unchangeable public belief in a quick return to normal prices. In turn, a slump developed, all of this, mind you within thirty days' time. The new year saw the first ray of hope automobile dealers had glimpsed in more than a year. A gradual return of the old eagerness to own a pleasure car began to possess the public mind and then there set in, slowly at first, signs of other automobile days when business was active. Before the end of January came the transformation of the motor atmosphere was almost complete. Stories have been recorded of total sales in that month for several leading agencies that surpassed any former totals.

MOMENTUM INCREASES.
The momentum created during January increased in speed in February, and the second month of the new year closed with a still higher number of new registrations. This, too, despite almost continuous rain. March figures are in a class by themselves. The present show has been the means of cleaning up what little reserve stock some fortunate dealers might have had warehoused awaiting the spring rush.

For the closing day every exhibitor is planning on having his entire force on duty. Saturday night is doubtless to be the best attended of the week.

The low priced models have not been the most favored with sales during the past five days. Medium and higher priced models have been disposed of as rapidly as the first division named Clyde. Jones of Braintree & McCorkle, recorded the first strictly show sale for a Stephens Six yesterday. A lot of prospects have been tabulated for this line. A snappy designed custom-built Kissel candidate, which has been admired by every one attending the show, was ordered last night by L. J. Schackey, chief engineer of the Johnson Manufacturing Company and promoter of the show. Overland, Franklin, Cole, Lexington, National, Oldsmobile, Hupp, Hudson, Studebaker, Mitchell, Buick, Hudson, Maxwell, Mercer, Ford, Jordan, Maxwell, Hispania, Packard, Reo, Oakland Six and Cadillac in passenger cars have all had splendid business during the week. Pords, of course, have sold well.

TRUCK MEN PLEASED.
All of the truck men are satisfied with the results. Federal, Autocar, Moreland, Republic, Burman truck, Packard and Reo agents feel that money has been well invested by participating.

The necessary displays have had good crowds every day and every one reports profitable results. Konrad Gobel, with his display of a sample Gillie top, the Beckman Machine Works, who are demonstrating the merits of Zenith car-burners; Berger Bros., with Gates Half Sole tires; the Grip Auto Lock Company, all of the camping equipment men and other firms who are showing in the foyer tell of the prospects that have been listed for future trade.

ISLAND MEN TO BE GUESTS HERE
Plans are being made by the Chamber of Commerce to entertain the twenty-five members of Philippine Island Independence Committee next Tuesday forenoon. The delegation is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco on the transport Sherman Sunday en route to Washington, D. C., where the committee will ask that the islands be given their independence. After a visit to the national capital the visitors will tour the country.

It is the intention of the committee to spend a few days in the bay cities before starting on a trip across the continent, and arrangements for the reception in Oakland Tuesday will be completed by the Chamber of Commerce before the time arrives. It is probable that representatives of that body will meet the visitors on the other side of the bay and accompany them to this city.

The committee from across the Pacific comprises: Rafael Palma, Secretary of the Interior, acting chairman; Dionisio J. Salas, Secretary of Commerce and Communications; Vicente Sison and Pedro Sison, Philippine Senators; Fard Alonzo, Gregorio Niera, Manuel Escudero, Emilio Tria Tirona, Mariano Escobeta and Pedro Almaraz, representatives of Philippine Assembly; Mauro Prieto and Marcos Rocas of the business community; Quintin Paredes, Attorney-General; George Bacobo, dean of College of Law.

Five Cars Shown by Brambila at Show
Manager J. L. Brambila of the Lou H. Rose Company's branch in Oakland has arranged his large show space with cars and furniture and has a telephone handy, for use of the public only. He has only five cars in the show. Touring car and roadster and enclosed models and has plenty of space given up to rest quarters for the weary.

ORANGE AUTO ST. PATRICK'S DAY EYESORE

Bill Harrington, with the Latham Davis Company, dealers in Buick and Stutz cars, moved perhaps by the glory of the day, March 17—the opening day of the automobile show—made a bet regarding a big orange-colored Kissel car which stands just inside the entrance to the auditorium where the show is being held each day from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. until Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock. Said Bill:

"I will bet $100 in nickels and dimes that no one will accept an offer of $200 to drive that orange-colored car out of the building." This was rather a double-barreled affair, one part being a bet on the sale of the Kissel car. But he was particularly interested in the proper celebration of St. Patrick's Day. If the various ways that he and he is green is any criterion. First, he offered $200 to anyone who would drive the orange-colored car out of the building; second, he would bet $100 in nickels and dimes that the offer would not be accepted. Bill had sprung a new kind of confidence game, according to the deepest minds among the automobile men. In one on a bet to involve a car of the building it must be bought or stolen—this was certainly—but just how Bill would gain in this transaction it was difficult to see. It was a bet on the fact that the orange-colored car annoyed a man of Bill's temperament, particularly when you remembered the various shades of green he exhibited on St. Patrick's Day. But just where the double-barreled bet came in no one could quite understand.

After devoting some hard thinking to the problem The TRIBUNE reporter has decided that this is a new kind of middle class game.

WHO DID THE KIDDING.
But talking about the hard thinking of newspaper reporters:

L. J. Pelz, manager of the California Motor Sales Company which handles the Cole Tourist, told a good story on the subject. He said that he had been told by a reporter who ordinarily spends his time chasing ambulances and delving into murders and suicides but who for some reason was taken away from his regular work and sent to help out the automobile show, that he had been told by a reporter that he was the next man to be asked across at the automobile show and the reporter, who knew about his own affairs, about automobiles, started a pattern of questions in Pelz's direction.

"What passenger car is that?" asked the reporter, indicating the Cole Tourist.

"That's a twelve passenger car," replied Pelz, without the flicker of an eyelid, as the reporter jotted it down in his notebook.

"What is the wheel base?" asked the reporter, who had just learned that an automobile had such a thing as a wheel base while not being quite sure just what it was.

"Fifty-two inches and forty-eight inches," replied Pelz.

The reporter seriously jotted it down. Pelz thought they had gone far enough.

"Now, listen," said Pelz, "am I kidding you or are you kidding me?" The reporter looked at Pelz, mystified.

"Now, come on," said Pelz, "throw that piece of paper away and let's get down to business. Then for an hour and a half Pelz talked to the reporter about the Cole Tourist until he convinced him that there was only one car in the world that was worth a wheel and that was the Cole Tourist.

CORRIDORS ARE CROWDED.
All attendance records at the auto show were broken last night. For hours in the corridors the exhibitors are being shown it was impossible to squeeze through the aisle between the exhibits without difficulty. To walk the whole length of the corridor, examining each necessary demonstration took a long time.

POPULAR WITH YOUNGSTERS.
The fountain installed in the Packard exhibit is one of the most exciting things at the show. In it are about a dozen cold fish. Parents who take their children with them to the show have great difficulty in getting away from this exhibit.

Coast Shipping Hit by Reaction Ships Idle as Freight Rates Fall

Possibility of inertia falling upon the merchant marine of this and other Pacific coast ports unless there is a very appreciable advance in ocean freight rates, and of the eastern being populated with a forest of idle masts, is held forth by local shipping men. Such a crisis is, they assert, far from remote. Freight rates are falling, they state, more rapidly than the outgoing tide races through the Golden Gate. Unless there is a reaction—sharp and distinct—disaster awaits the ocean-carrying trade just over the horizon.

A few weeks ago vessels clearing from this port were, according to local shipping men, paid $1.50 a case for coal oil to be delivered in Australian ports. Today the highest price shippers are offering for this class of cargo is 50 cents a case.

At the present time the British bark Itau is at anchor in the stream awaiting a charter. Captain Kennedy, her skipper, offered to take on an oil cargo for Australia at 65 cents a case. Fifty cents a case was the best bid he could get from the shippers. Kennedy states that the vessel could not make expenses at the freight rate offered unless she made an unusually fast passage.

LAY UP VESSELS.
Reports from Puget sound ports state that the freight on lumber from that region to Australia is to be cut $10 a thousand feet within a few days. Should the rate fall lower it would be unprofitable for vessels to make the voyage. Rather than run at a loss, local and Puget sound shipping men are prepared to lay up their vessels, it is announced. Local shipmasters and owners assert that such action may be forced on them within the next sixty days. They are disinclined to point out where the responsibility for the possible inertia of shipping lies, but are of the opinion the matter could be straightened out by federal regulation. Encouragement and establishment of a merchant marine by the United States government should, they believe, be accompanied by freight rate regulations that would insure its successful operation.

BIG PROFITS WERE MADE.
When the world war broke out there were thirty vessels out of commission in the estuary here. The excessive freight rates which for several years prevailed gave these craft a new interest in maritime affairs, and gave them a steeling value far in excess, in some instances, of their original cost. Often such vessels were sold by marine brokers at several times the price they paid for them.

The old steam whaling bark Beluga, for instance, was purchased for $10,500. Her machinery was removed and she was converted into a sailing craft. She was sold for $45,000 after returning from a voyage to Australia, South America and Hawaiian ports which netted her owners over $50,000. The Beluga's next voyage was her last for all time, as she was sunk in the South Pacific by the German raider Wolf.

Unless there is a radical upward trend in ocean freight rates, the local shipmasters are of the opinion that the entire reversal of such prosperous conditions, state local shipowners, and a return to maritime idleness approximating that of pre-war days.

MRS. ROGERS SAYS SINGER GOT RAKE-OFF

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Mrs. Aldrich Davis, Metropolitan opera company star, received a 25 per cent commission for soliciting contributions to the National Defense League of California while sojourning in Los Angeles in 1917, according to the testimony of Mrs. Alyce F. Rogers, one of the defendants whose cross-examination was concluded by United States Attorney Annetta A. Adams today.

It also developed from a letter introduced by the government written by Mrs. L. Williams, field secretary here and a defendant, that an attempt to raise $50,000 for the league from wealthy Los Angeles people had been made through John C. Drake, president of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings, the latter being written at the suggestion of Mrs. Rogers.

The witness testified that her primary reason was to do away with the animosity existing between San Francisco and Los Angeles and such a crusade would heal the breach. The battle of wits between the two women, one a defendant and the other government prosecutor, continued today, the procedure being marked with bitter sarcasm, especially on the part of Mrs. Rogers who in one instance intimated that packed initials of Drake, authorizing her to cash personally the checks contributions of C. H. Burnett of Los Angeles, had been erased, making it appear that she had devoted the money to her own uses.

The most damaging testimony was the admission by the witness of her having signed the name of Colonel R. C. Mathewson of Alameda, then president of the league to various letters which she had sent out from the office in the south.

CHALLENGES MAYOR DAVIE TO JOINT DEBATE

The following letter was this morning sent to Mayor Davie by Joseph H. King:

Oakland, Calif., March 21, 1919.

Hon. John L. Davie, Mayor of Oakland, Oakland, Calif.

Dear Sir:

You and I are before the public of Oakland as candidates for Mayor. Our views relative to the proper conduct of this office, and on other matters of vital concern to the citizens of this city, are far apart.

The people have a right to hear both sides of every question affecting the municipal government.

They have a right to hear from you the exact truth regarding the conduct of their business during the past four years.

They have a right to know the exact facts regarding the present state of municipal affairs.

They are entitled to have business-like intelligent administration of the community interests, free from prejudice, personal quarrels and petty politics.

They are entitled to a clear, comprehensive program for reduction in the cost of municipal government, the settlement of all pressing municipal problems, and the conduct of our city's business during the next four years.

I have been closely in touch with your administration of public affairs, and sincerely believe that the best interests of the city will be served by a change in the office of the Mayor.

In order that the voters may gain a clear understanding of our views and the reasons for our different opinions, I believe that there should be a public discussion.

I therefore challenge you to meet me before the citizens of Oakland in joint debate in the Civic Auditorium at any time within the next ten days to discuss these problems and any other matter of concern to the people of this city.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH H. KING.

As soon as Mayor Davie accepts the challenge the public will be informed of the date of the debate.

Naval Committee Favors Sub Base

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—The house and senate naval committee members went to Pasadena today to inspect the submarine base at San Pedro and Long Beach.

Although the committeemen would not make a definite statement, it was understood the plan to locate a submarine base at San Pedro on 150 acres of city owned tideland met with considerable favor. Today's program calls for a visit to the Arcadia balloon school, and a luncheon at the Hotel Maryland.

The committee is composed of a senator, consisting of Oklahoma, organized as the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Class, the first one to be thus named in the United States. Three hundred and thirty men took part in the thirty-second regatta.

DIVISION OF TEUTON SHIPS AGREED UPON

LONDON, March 21.—If the French and Italians do not agree on the proposal to dispose of the surrendered German fleet by sinking it, England has decided to consent to a division, but will sink the warships allotted to her, naval authorities say.

Equipment and armament of the German warships are such that maintenance of the vessels by any allied power will be too difficult and expensive for practical purposes they contend.

The German guns, being of a different make, will necessitate special ammunition, while construction and equipment are so different that England cannot maintain the fleet with profit.

These naval authorities forecast that both Italy and France, in the interests of efficiency, will eventually decide to sink their German warships after salvaging them.

COLORED TROOPS WELCOMED HOME

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The handsome regimental flag presented to the regiment of colored volunteers by Mayor Ralph of San Francisco in May, 1915, was recently lost sight of by Lieutenant A. P. Alberger on behalf of the colored troops at a welcome home party in the Exposition Auditorium. That the regiment of colored volunteers as organized at the beginning of the war.

City officials, assisted by colored citizens about the bay arranged the formal welcome to the colored service men who have returned. Mayor Ralph presided as chairman and Andrew J. Gaisner as master of ceremonies. A company of the guests of honor commanded by Sergeant Joseph Holly of Los Angeles gave a drill.

Addresses were made by Rev. F. L. Scott, national evangelist for the African Methodist church and Rev. J. M. Brown, pastor of the First A. M. E. church of Oakland. Vaudeville features were contributed by William Gendrup and Musical Tendency of the Alhambra. Alexander Devan and J. P. Dean led the community singing. Vocal numbers were rendered by Mrs. Laura Tooms Scott and Miss Catherine Carver.

Members of two Red Cross auxiliaries composed of colored women served refreshments and assisted in arranging the celebration which was concluded by dancing.

SNORING AND COOKING ARE DIVORCE CAUSE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—When a woman's husband does not agree that she is a better cook than he, it is ample cause for divorce, according to a decision of Superior Judge Flood yesterday. Mrs. Eva Williams is a graduate of a Boston cooking school. Charles Williams taught himself the gentle art. Arguments followed. Mrs. Williams asked relief from marital bitterness. She was granted the divorce.

Snoring is also grounds for divorce, according to a decision yesterday rendered by Superior Judge Shortall. John D. Barker, a Marin county rancher, complained every morning that Mrs. Barker kept him awake all night with her snoring and threatened to send her to some institution for the indur. Mrs. Barker, whose first husband was the late "Pop" Floyd, well-known cafe owner, objected to the suggestion. She brought action for divorce. It was granted her yesterday by Judge Shortall.

FOUND: TRUTHFUL AUTOIST. CHICAGO, March 20.—"I cannot tell a lie," she said. "I was speeding—only one mile an hour, just as the officer said." Of course it was Miss Katherine True.

VALESKA SURATT TO GIVE THRILLS

Valeska Suratt registers the biggest hit of her career in "The Purple Poppy," a melodramatic sketch written to her measure by Paul M. Potter and C. V. de Vonde, which will be the star attraction at the Orpheum theater next week.

This little melodrama is full of heart interest and human appeal, while Miss Suratt is vividly pictorial throughout. The flaring costumes so common with Miss Suratt are here presented in more daring of color and design than any she has yet worn in this city, but her personal attire sinks into mere oblivion when one sees "The Purple Poppy" completely master a most difficult role that at once places her in the first rank of dramatic actresses.

She packs many a surprise in this sketch, and Orpheum patrons will be well entertained with her adventures in Greenwich village, New York City's Bohemia, where the locale of "The Purple Poppy" is laid.

Stolen from Closet

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Stock certificates having a value of $5910 were

INEZ REED'S
LETTERS MAY LEAD TO CLEW

Delay in the arrival from Fort Riley, Kansas, of the trunk of Miss Inez Elizabeth Reed, Oakland nurse, who was murdered by a malpractitioner, caused a halt in the investigation to determine the persons responsible for her death. Only one new clew was investigated yesterday, that of the report that a midwife, Madame Jeanne Pinton of Woodside, a few miles from Redwood City, owned the automobile in which the body was taken to the spot on the Crystal Springs road and thrown into a ravine. A search warrant was issued, but the result was to establish to the satisfaction of the detectives that the woman had nothing to do with the crime.

There is a possibility that the trunk will arrive in San Francisco today, and the study of its contents be begun. While the young woman was a guest of Mrs. Maude Frankfield of Oakland, she was very reticent, but it is believed that letters or possibly a diary that will give a clew to the man responsible for Miss Reed's condition will be found in the trunk.

No trace, according to the police, has been found of the handbag and articles

Big Liner Proves Smuggler Ship
Great Quantity of Goods Seized

Tins of opium, cases of san-shu liquor, bolts of silk and gold coin, none of which are declared on the ships manifest, were seized by customs officers yesterday afternoon aboard the liner Tenny Maru.

There was scarcely a portion of the big craft, from passenger salon to cook's galley, that did not yield contraband or non-declared merchandise of some description. The customs officers removed bolts of silk from the upholstery of the main salon and from the partitions of the staterooms as a sleight-of-hand artist pulls a rabbit from a silk hat. From the forecastle they appeared with cases of san-shu, an intoxicating liquor, taken from Chinese members of the crew, and the same source yielded many tins of opium.

Chang Sing, a saloon waiter, was relieved of $2200 in undeclared gold coin, but not until a party in inspector sat upon him while a fellow inspector removed the gold. Chang had it hidden in a jacket of special design.

Lee Cheo, a scullery worker, upon the discovery of a considerable quantity of opium on his person, winked blandly, pulled out a plethora of roll of currency, and extended $200 to the examining inspector. Lee will today be asked by the United States district attorney to explain this action and his possession of the illicit drug.

The raid of the customs inspectors followed one made last Wednesday, when huge seizures of opium were announced. It is stated that the aggregate value of the opium seized is $15,000, representing the largest amount of opium found aboard a transpacific vessel in over two years.

JUDGE KINSELL
BACK FROM HIKE

Judge Dudley Kinsell returned yesterday afternoon from a two weeks' trip through Southern California, much of the time on foot. He left today for a week-end with members of his family and will return to his duties at the courthouse Monday.

The judge's departure on foot was not known to any besides his immediate family until he walked into the court room at San Diego to pay his respects to the judge there. He said that except for short "hikes" given by automobile buffs overtaking him, he walked the entire distance. From San Diego he went through Imperial Valley and returned from Los Angeles by steamer. While away he visited Southern California institutions, especially Whittier Industrial school, to which he committed a number of boys from the juvenile court.

Judge Kinsell says that since his inspection of the institution his conclusion, disturbed somewhat by reason of his having seen boys without knowing much about the institution, is resting easily. He says it is an admirable institution, with few of the earmarks of a correctional school, and that the boys appear to be contented.

The judge reports that the farmers are prospering because of the recent rains, and that everything down the country looks cheerful and prosperous. He did not experience much of the real life, while on the trip, preferring the good hotels to the camp fire, but he did meet a few farmers, and among the things that are needed, he says, are public baths, one or more in each county.

30 ARRESTS IN
LOTTERY RAIDS
IN CHINATOWN

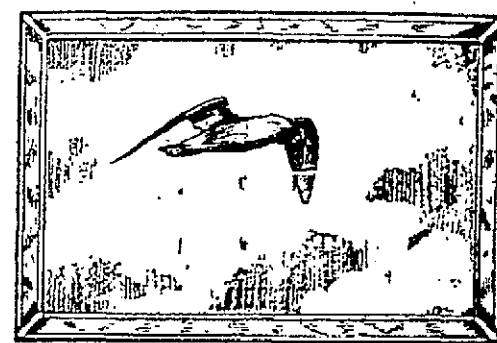

Three more Chinese lottery places were raided by the police last night and 30 men arrested for visiting lottery places. The raids are a result of the police order closing Chinatown following threats of renewed long hostilities. A peculiar phase of the situation, revealed as a result of the investigations of Captain J. F. Lynch, is that the present difficulty is within a single tong. The Bing Kongs, the richest Oakland tongs, are said to be the tong that has the fractional strife.

It is said to be an array of the older Chinese of the tong against the young "native son" element. The younger element is said to have demanded money of a resort at Eighth and Webster streets and the money was refused.

The older faction representatives last night told Captain Lynch that the younger element consisted of "hoodlums and troublemakers" and that for that reason they did not want to pay them any money. Chinamen told the police last night that everything was settled, but Captain Lynch said that unless there was assurance from responsible leaders the lid would stay on in Chinatown.

The places raided and those arrested were: 1117 Franklin street—Fred Huff, Gus Hugstada and one Chinese. 1576 Seventh street—Tony Rodgers, Manuel Martin, Tony Tschadu, Elwood Embury, Manuel Maderos, Steve Vucelick, Thomas R. Treacy, William Davis, Antonio Silva, Alfred Rafael, Joe Guden, Oscar Harden, Anthony Hudson and four Chinese. 1168 Seventh street—George E. Ehringer, Fred Wagner, John Toesman, William F. Peters, Henry Margh, Harry W. Ryan, Frank Antonio, Tom Brown, Oscar Wallman and Joe Camplon.

No Choking, Blinding Fumes Accompany Its Use—Contains Real Mustard.

The pain of rheumatism and gout—the swelling—the soreness—are relieved quickly by Regy's Mustardine than by any liniment or plaster. When you begin to feel those occasional pains in the chest, with tightness and soreness, the best thing to do right away is to rub on Regy's Mustardine. The chances are it will save you from pleurisy, bronchitis and perhaps pneumonia. Mustardine (Regy's) is the original mustard preparation compounded to take the place of mustard plasters. It is better than any mustard plaster—far better—for it has twice the strength and can be kept on until all inflammation, soreness, aches and pains have disappeared. And it cannot blister—not even the tenderest skin.
